We have a fantastic top-of-the-range Sorento. The Kia Sorento is a brilliant seven-seat SUV and, it comes with loads of standard equipment and great practicality. The powertrain in this particular Kia Sorento is a new one, the 1.6 T-GDi HEV. It's a 1.6-litre turbocharged petrol engine combined with a 44.2kW electric motor. This is a self-charging hybrid system – the 1.49kWh battery can be recharged quickly through coasting/braking and can then assist the petrol engine to save fuel. There is no need to plug in, and you still have a 67-litre fuel tank. So whilst the engine alone might seem small, this powertrain offers up 226BHP and 350Nm of torque. That's more than capable of shifting the 2,006kg Sorento. 0-62mph takes 8.7 seconds and the top speed is 119mph. Power is sent to all four wheels via a 6-speed automatic transmission, which does a good job of keeping the engine noise to a minimum. The car has a comprehensive list of features which includes LED exterior lighting, heated front seats, heated steering wheel, automatic lights and wipers, digital instrument cluster, Apple CarPlay, Android Auto, front and rear parking sensors and a reversing camera. The Edition model has many bells and whistles, including a 360-degree camera system, heated outer-rear seats (middle row), ventilated front seats, blind-spot monitoring, Bose premium sound system, head-up display, smart power tailgate and keyless entry. Safety equipment includes Intelligent Speed Limit Assist, Forward Collision Avoidance with cyclist and pedestrian detection, Lane Follow Assist and Multi-Collision Brake Assist.
